

Concert to celebrate HM The Queen
St Albans Cathedral, Wednesday 6th July 2022 at 7.30pm
Organised by the International Organ Festival and the Hertfordshire Lieutenancy in recognition of her Platinum Jubilee

A unique and thrilling concert of popular and ceremonial music from across the Queen's reign will be given in St Albans Cathedral to mark Her Majesty's Platinum Jubilee. We are honoured that a member of the Royal Family will be attending this special event and international choirmaster and broadcaster, Gareth Malone, will present the evening. Headlining the evening will be London's Southbank Sinfonia, described as an 'orchestra like no other' comprising thirty-three of the world's most promising graduate musicians. Conducted by their founder, Simon Over, the orchestra will be joined by a massed choir of 180 singers, fanfare trumpeters and other guest musicians. Music will include Military marches, Handel's Zadok the Priest, Eric Coates' London Suite, Parry's I was glad, John Williams' Harry Potter Suite, and Paul Mealor's Military Wives anthem, Wherever you are. After concert costs are covered, net proceeds from ticket sales and the retiring collection will be divided equally between Hospices serving Hertfordshire communities and St Albans International Organ Festival.
